

Fan blade for horizontal rotary cutter of plant residue shredder consists of a blade, a hole for mounting bolts, oblique sidewalls with cutting edges of oblique sidewalls, which perform the function of a fan, providing additional shredding of plant stems and scattering them across the field.