

Apparatus for dehydrating lactic cheese comprises a frame, an endless drainage belt, guide rails, a drive drum, and a tension drum. In the lower part of the frame, perpendicular to the direction of belt movement, there are axles positioned at a height above the lower level of the rolled-up belt, on which rollers are mounted, capable of free rotation.