

Method of producing snack includes the use of legume seeds, which are subjected to hydromechanical and hydrothermal processing, ground, and combined with recipe ingredients. Pea groats and an emulsion system based on pea aquafaba, obtained during the main production process, are used.