

Rubble removal device consists of metal housing and separate crescent-shaped hook. It also includes two additional separate crescent-shaped hooks, welded joints, and ring.