

Method for producing whey-based beverage involves adding a filler, mixing, heat treatment. Wherein, amaranth protein concentrate is used as the filler in an amount of 3.0–4.0%, which, prior to being added to the main volume of whey, is subjected to swelling in pasteurized whey taken in a ratio to this filler as (1.5-2.5):1.