

Door frame for civil defense protective structures contains a threshold attached to the lower part of the frame. The threshold consists of two parts, one of which is fixedly attached to the door frame by welding. The other is made movable and removable with the possibility of installation in two positions: in a recessed position level with the floor and in a protruding position with fixation on the frame.