

Method for impregnating roving with synthetic polymeric resin includes the continuous feeding of roving, the continuous feeding of synthetic polymeric resin, their bonding, impregnation and the degassing of the uncured composite material using the cavitation effect. The combination of roving with synthetic polymeric resin, the impregnation of the roving with resin and their degassing using cavitation are performed simultaneously with the vacuuming of the pipe section, which is shaped as a Venturi tube.