

Fire extinguishing method that involves delivering a sealed shell with a fire extinguishing agent and a propellant charge to the fire zone using a delivery device. The fire extinguishing agent is carbon dioxide (CO₂) gas hydrates.