

Method for producing pasteurized burdock leaf juice involves preliminary preparation of burdock leaves, grinding the burdock leaves and extracting the juice. Acidity regulators are added to the resulting juice, after which it is bottled, pasteurized and cooled.