

Vehicle steering mechanism with bellows dampers includes a pitman arm fixed to the steering mechanism, which is connected via transverse rods to the pivot arms. The transverse rods are connected to the pivot arms via bushings-caps, guide rings and bellows dampers with check valves and are fixed with locknuts.