

Planting module contains a biodegradable reservoir, which is made in the form of a cylinder with a diameter of 6–8 cm and a depth of 20–25 cm, inside which a plant growth biostimulant is housed. The plant growth biostimulant is incorporated directly into the composition of the reservoir material.