

Method for producing ice cream enriched with phosphopeptides includes preparing the mixture, filtering, pasteurization, homogenization, cooling, aging, freezing, packaging and hardening. During the preparation of the mixture, casein phosphopeptides are additionally added in an amount of 0.1–0.3% relative to the total amount of recipe components.