

Method for production of beer using sweet corn involves preparing mash from malt and unmalted raw materials, saccharifying and filtering it to obtain beer wort, boiling beer wort with hops, cooling, fermentation, secondary fermentation, filtering beer, and bottling. Unmalted raw material consists of sweet corn kernels. After beer wort is cooled, it is aerated.