

Cemented articulating hip joint spacer with antibiotic contains a head with bone cement, a neck screw, and a stem. The spacer stem has holes for the neck screw at the proximal end of the stem and for the locking screw at the distal end. The neck screw and stem are covered with a cement mantle containing an antibiotic.