

Log consists of a central log, side logs, and support logs. Additionally, a large and a small circle are placed on the central log, which are secured with brackets.