

Autonomous lighting system includes a wind turbine with thin-film solar panels. The hybrid power source is installed at the top of a steel conical pole, to which a mounting bracket for LED lights is attached, and at the bottom of which there is an inspection window, behind which, inside the support, there is an intelligent power flow control system and gel batteries, which are located next to it in the ground in a vandal-proof and waterproof box.