

Three-dimensional attachment in device for evacuating aerosols generated during dental procedures, consisting of frame made of 5 spokes of aluminum wire, on which latex-free material made of thermoplastic elastomer and polypropylene is secured by thermal bonding, and fastening system on main cylinder of aerosol evacuation device, consisting of two strips: one with micro-loops and the other with micro-hooks.