

Pneumatic simulator for controlling the braking system of a towed vehicle consists of a control line and a supply line, a supply pipe with a shut-off valve, an air reservoir, a braking system control unit, a pressure switch, and a brake control valve. An automatic timer is also installed.