

Foundation pile tip has a cylindrical body and is a cast piece with blades at its end; it includes a connecting element integrated into the cylindrical body from the rear end for connection to the foundation pile shaft. The front end of the cylindrical body is tapered, and the connecting element features grooves and teeth for a spline connection with the foundation pile shaft and has a diameter larger than that of the cylindrical body.