

Curved surgical needle has a sharp end and a blunt end with an eye. The eye is located on the concave surface of the needle on the sharp end side, and the front edge of the eye is extended by symmetrical lateral grooves.