

Belt dryer consists of five belt conveyors arranged one above the other and two interconnected electric motors, worm gears, worm gear reducers, chain drives, and four agitators. Dryer is additionally equipped with frequency converter connected to electric motors via phase rotors.