

The present disclosure provides methods of treating or preventing a CNS or systemic disease in a subject in need thereof comprising administering to the subject a therapeutically effective amount of a LINE-1 inhibitor, or a pharmaceutical composition thereof.